- Brief description of the internship:

My internship was completed in Bhutan Centre for Media and Democracy. BCMD was established in 2008 when Bhutan became a constitutional democracy, since then BCMD has been one of the early organizations strengthening democratic culture through education on citizenship education in media and democracy literacy. My internship was about recognizing the activities of BCMD and engagement in them.

- Description of the activities:

- Improving design and content of BCMD's websites
- Creating first draft of facilitation guide book
- Providing suggestions for project proposals
- Analysis of quantitative data (transcripts from focus group discussions)
- Administrative support
- Research for museum start up
- Presentation on state of democracy of Czech republic
- Developing different media channels for good nutrition education

- Benefit of the internship for student and partner organization:

Thanks to internship I have work experience in NGO in developing country, where the democracy is only 12 years old, so society is still learning to live in this system, for example level of bureaucracy is still very high (just to get to country demands some effort and same it is for travelling in the country). Educating youth in media and democracy literacy was fulfilling experience due to positive feedback which organization gets. And also unemployment of youth is relatively high and that is why education in of youth is very important for Bhutan to have good position in globalized world. Professional and personal social interaction deepened my understanding of interdependence of everything and importance of environmental preservation in which is Bhutan unique.
